BARITONE PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Charles Norman Granville Sang at the New Park Theatre Sunday Afternoon

FOUR GROUPS OF SONGS GIVEN

Dramatic Interpretation Made the Program a Doubly Enjoyable One

(Contributed)

Sunday the Brainerd Musical club gave its last big concert for the season, when Charles Norman Granville, baritone, sang at the New Park theatre to a large audience, a thoroughly pleased audience that applauded until Mr. Granville responded with encores.

He sang four groups, three in English and one in French, songs of joy and romance and some in minor key, with one rather heavier aria from Benvenuto. The first group was one of four songs from the plays of Shakespeare, of which the willow song from Othello in its minor key was the most impressive. The two short French songs of the bluebird and the king's daughter were dainty and beautifully sung, with a light and airy touch.

In the aria depicting the despair of the artist Cellini in his prison; Granville showed a great depth of feeling. In fact, one of the greatest charms of the man was his ability to merge himself in the mood of whatever character he was depicting at the time, grave or gay, penative or joyful or in rollicking sport. His dramatic interpretation made the songs doubly enjoyable. Especially did he show this in his masterly handling of Mousorgsky's, "Song of the Flea", showing the sardonic humor and scorn brought out by the composer—an effect that would have been lost in a less able presentation. In the negro melodies he presented very clearly the moods of the negroes as they sang and gave a dramatic visions that was fine.

The songs were all beautifully sung, but we should like to mention here especially the "Eagle", "Leetle Bateese", and the "Tree". In addition to the regular program, he sang three encores: "He Met Her in the Meadows"—a plaintive song that gives you the impression of romantic love, but is a sad disappointment, "Run, Mary, Run", and by request, "The Blind Flowerman." It was a most enjoyable afternoon.

As a last word, his voice had a wide range, was remarkably under control and he had a most excellent enunciation and smoothly flowing voice that was a joy to hear.

This account would be far from complete without a most justly deserved tribute to the exceptional accompanist, Sallie Bliss Rector, whom we have had the pleasure of hearing before. The piano music for the songs was most interesting, and the lady showed an ability with the keys that added that indefinable finish that makes a song much more enjoyable. A solo or two by the lady would have been an added pleasure. The piano used for this concert was donated by the Folsom Music Co.

E. O. WEBB BUYS SLEEPER BLOCK

Real Estate Deal of Some Magnitude Consummated on Saturday, Consideration $20,000

COL. C. P. SLEEPER BUILT BLOCK
James Koukis Holds Five Year Lease on Half of Main Floor, Will Add Lunch Room

A real estate transfer of some magnitude was consummated Saturday, in which E. O. Webb became the owner of the Sleeper block on Front Street. The consideration is understood to have been $20,000.

This property, one of the largest blocks in the city at the time of its construction, was built by Col. C. P. Sleeper and has housed many of Brainerd's important business firms.

Henry I. Cohen conducted a general mercantile business in this building, first occupying only one-half of it, and later taking up the entire first floor. The old Commercial club had a suite of rooms on the second floor, and the Brainerd Dispatch had its plant there until it was destroyed by fire. H. C. Stivers at one time published a paper in this building, also.

Three years ago James Koukis purchased the property and opened the Cosmo billiard parlor in one-half of the first floor. The other half is the home of the John Carlson & Son's clothing establishment.

Mr. Koukis holds a five year lease on that part occupied by the Cosmo, and will make a number of improvements therein, one being to fit the entire front section as a lunch room, moving the billiard hall into the rear section.

In making this investment, Mr. Webb has shown his confidence in Brainerd and its future, a faith which it is certain has not been misplaced. It is believed that the new owner is to be congratulated upon coming into this new possession.

The Business and Professional Women's club served tea in their club rooms Sunday afternoon. The Misses Margaret Stoner, Mabel Sheffo and Elsie Nuss were hostesses.

D. L. ALLISON PASSED AWAY

Made His Home With His Son, Roy P. Allison of Brainerd at 617 South Sixth Street

FUNERAL IS TO BE ON TUESDAY
Will be Under Auspices of the Modern Woodmen of America, Rev. E. A. Cooke Officiating

D. L. Allison, age 71, of Kimberly, died Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of his son, Roy P. Allison, of 617 South Sixth street. He leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs. E. G. Bursell of St. Cloud and Mrs. A. G. Kurz of Brainerd; one son Roy P. Allison of Brainerd, one brother J. M. Allison of Hartford, Mich., three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Towle of Annandale, Mrs. Margaret Marvin of Bremerton, Wash., Mrs. Sarah Praul of Bremerton, Wash.

Mr. Allison was known throughout the west as an experienced blacksmith and plied his trade until about ten years ago. Since last September he made his home with his son in Brainerd. He was a kindly, generous and charitable man and had many friends, all of whom regret to see his passing away.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 617 South Sixth street, Rev. E. A. Cooke officiating. Members of the Modern Woodmen of America, to which lodge he belonged, will be the pallbearers and have charge of the burial services.

It was requested by the deceased that no flowers be sent.

ANOTHER TRUNK HIGHWAY SOUGHT

Senator C. Rosenmeier of this district has recently introduced in the senate a bill creating a new trunk highway, to be known as No. 71, to run from Little Falls to a point on Trunk Highway No. 27 between Milaca and Onamia. This would follow the present state road east of Little Falls as far as Pierz, and would then continue directly east to connect with Highway No. 27.

BRAINERD MEN WERE HONORED

W. H. Gemmell Elected a Trustee of the Episcopal Church, Diocese of Duluth

R. R. GOULD, OFFICER OF CLUB
Mrs. R. R. Gould Acted as Representative of the Brainerd Sunday School at Deliberations

"How shall we meet and overcome the ignorance of those who are striving to destroy American institutions by teaching Bolshevik doctrines?" "What shall we do for the children of the aliens who will not give their children a fair show in life?"

"What is the future of the country if the Christian peoples continue to ignore the crisis that threatens through indifference and laziness on the part of those who ought to give their time and energy to building the Kingdom of God?"

These were only a few of the questions that concerned the annual convention of the Episcopal church of Northern Minnesota, called the Diocese of Duluth.

Thirty clergymen, six of them Indians from the reservation, and about sixty laymen were in attendance and took part in the meetings, which were held in Trinity Cathedral and in St. Paul's church.

Brainerd was honored signally in the election of officers and during the deliberations. W. H. Gemmell was elected a trustee of the diocese and

R. R. Gould was made vice president of the Men's Club, an organization composed of the leading laymen from all over Northern Minnesota.

Rev. James Mills, a former student and assistant of Rev. George Walenta of the Brainerd parish was chosen to take the place of Dr. Ryan, late rector of St. Paul's church in Duluth. This church is considered the most beautiful in the West, and accounted one of the most influential.

Mrs. R. R. Gould acted as representative of the Brainerd Sunday school at the deliberations of the third day, when many interesting facts were discussed concerning Sunday school work in general.

The next meeting of the clergy and laymen will be held at Cass Lake, for the Indian convocation in June.

E. O. WEBB BUYS SLEEPER BLOCK

Real Estate Deal of Some Magnitude Consummated on Saturday, Consideration $20,000

COL. C. P. SLEEPER BUILT BLOCK James Koukis Holds Five Year Lease on Half of Main Floor, Will Add Lunch Room

A real estate transfer of some magnitude was consummated Saturday, in which E. O. Webb became the owner of the Sleeper block on Front Street. The consideration is understood to have been $20,000.

This property, one of the largest blocks in the city at the time of its construction, was built by Col. C. P. Sleeper and has housed many of Brainerd's important business firms.

Henry I. Cohen conducted a general mercantile business in this building, first occupying only one-half of it, and later taking up the entire first floor. The old Commercial club had a suite of rooms on the second floor, and the Brainerd Dispatch had its plant there until it was destroyed by fire. H. C. Stivers at one time published a paper in this building, also.

Three years ago James Koukis purchased the property and opened the Cosmo billiard parlor in one-half of the first floor. The other half is the home of the John Carlson & Son's clothing establishment.

Mr. Koukis holds a five year lease on that part occupied by the Cosmo, and will make a number of improvements therein, one being to fit the entire front section as a lunch room, moving the billiard hall into the rear section.

In making this investment, Mr. Webb has shown his confidence in Brainerd and its future, a faith which it is certain has not been misplaced. It is believed that the new owner is to be congratulated upon coming into this new possession.

Tea Party on Sunday

The Business and Professional Women's club served tea in their club rooms Sunday afternoon. The Misses Margaret Stoner, Mabel Shetho, and Elsie Nuss were hostesses.

FUNERAL IS TO BE ON TUESDAY Will be Under Auspices of the Modern Woodmen of America, Rev. E. A. Cooke Officiating

D. L. Allison, age 71, of Kimberly, died Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of his son, Roy P. Allison, of 617 South Sixth street. He leaves a wife and two daughters, Mrs. E. G. Bursell of St. Cloud and Mrs. A. G. Kurz of Brainerd; one son Roy P. Allison of Brainerd, one brother J. M. Allison of Hartford, Mich., three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Towle of Annandale, Mrs. Margaret Marvin of Bremerton, Wash., Mrs. Sarah Praul of Bremerton, Wash.

Mr. Allison was known throughout the west as an experienced blacksmith and plied his trade until about ten years ago. Since last September he made his home with his son in Brainerd. He was a kindly, generous and charitable man and had many friends, all of whom regret to see his passing away.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 617 South Sixth street, Rev. E. A. Cooke officiating. Members of the Modern Woodmen of America, to which lodge he belonged, will be the pallbearers and have charge of the burial services.

ANOTHER TRUNK HIGHWAY SOUGHT

Senator C. Rosenmeier of this district has recently introduced in the senate a bill creating a new trunk highway, to be known as No. 71, to run from Little Falls to a point on Trunk Highway No. 27 between Milaca and Onamia. This would follow the present state road east of Little Falls as far as Pierz, and would then continue directly east to connect with Highway No. 27.

BRAINERD MEN WERE HONORED

W. H. Gemmell Elected a Trustee of the Episcopal Church, Diocese of Duluth

R. R. GOULD, OFFICER OF CLUB Mrs. R. R. Gould Acted as Representative of the Brainerd Sunday School at Deliberations

"How shall we meet and overcome the ignorance of those who are striving to destroy American institutions by teaching Bolshevik doctrines?" "What shall we do for the children of the aliens who will not give their children a fair show in life?"

"What is the future of the country if the Christian peoples continue to ignore the crisis that threatens through indifference and laziness on the part of those who ought to give their time and energy to building the Kingdom of God?"

These were only a few of the questions that concerned the annual convention of the Episcopal church of Northern Minnesota, called the Diocese of Duluth.

Thirty clergymen, six of them Indians from the reservation, and about sixty laymen were in attendance and took part in the meetings, which were held in Trinity Cathedral and in St. Paul's church.

Brainerd was honored signally in the election of officers and during the deliberations. W. H. Gemmell was elected a trustee of the diocese and

R. R. Gould was made vice president of the Mem's Club, an organization composed of the leading laymen from all over Northern Minnesota.

Rev. James Mills, a former student and assistant of Rev. George Walenta of the Brainerd parish was chosen to take the place of Dr. Ryan, late rector of St. Paul's church in Duluth. This church is considered the most beautiful in the West, and accounted one of the most influential.

Mrs. R. R. Gould acted as representative of the Brainerd Sunday school at the deliberations of the third day, when many interesting facts were discussed concerning Sunday school work in general.

The next meeting of the clergy and laymen will be held at Cass lake, for the Indian convocation in June.

DIVISIVE FORCES AND COMMUNITY SPIRIT

THERE are many evidences that the people of the United States are giving serious consideration to the divisive factors that, entering into community life, threaten it with disintegration. The newspapers carry reports of meetings in cities of this and other states wherein the leaders have proved themselves awake to the dangers that underlie the increase in organizations which tend to create ever-increasing divisions of the people who are, after all, the community.

Denominationalism, which has divided the Protestant church into so many different bodies, has been roundly condemned by many non-churchmen who have not noted the drift of civic and social life towards the very thing that has been condemned in the church. Just how this defect is to be remedied is receiving consideration both in the church and civic and social organizations. Those who champion organic union, and ask that all become one, are not likely to find their dreams realized for many years. Fundamental and characteristic differences have led to the divisions with their particularistic emphasis, and even though union were consummated tomorrow differences in temperament would be likely to lead people into various new groups at an early date. Organic union may seem desirable but what is desirable is not always practical.

What is true of the church is also true of lodges and clubs. Though a similar purpose may lie beneath all lodges and clubs those who hold membership in them know quite well that dreams of unity are nothing more than dreams. Certain modern clubs in which men gather have definitely planned a limitation of membership so that only one man of each trade, profession or business may secure membership therein. There is something to be said in favor of such restrictions. A compact and limited group may get down to real business while an unwieldy organization is getting ready to start.

It seems then that if organic union within the church or civic and social groups is not possible, and as many think not desirable, some other way must be found of bringing these in sympathetic relationship so that working together they will put their united effort behind a program on which all agree. This is just what leaders of churches and clubs are recommending. Denominational leaders, and club presidents, are suggesting that the heads of all churches, or of all clubs, get together weekly and agree on those common interests upon which all may work together for community good. In a number of cities the Protestant churches are federated, and in many cities leaders of all the civic and social organizations are getting together around the table each week where recommendations are pooled and programs arranged behind which all of the organized civic and social life may put its force, working for the best interests of the city as a whole. Brainerd can with advantage follow the advice of leaders in Rotary and Lions clubs and seek to advance its interests by the unification of the forces making for improvement.

THINKING INTERNATIONALLY

ELIHU ROOT, who is considered one of our ablest students of international law is strongly behind a proposal that looks to the education of the American people in international affairs. There are two more or less clear cut divisions of our people when such suggestions are made. There are those who, inspired by a narrow patriotism, object to any serious consideration of problems that do not originate within the borders of the United States. At the opposite pole are those who would have the people lose their patriotic fervor in an international enthusiasm for world causes.

Neither of these attitudes is the correct one. A warm patriotism is not inconsistent with a sensible consideration of international problems. It is equally true that international enthusiasm, which has no roots in nationalism, may be a weak and sickly sentimentalism. Free love advocates, whether they direct their attention to individual relationships or to national and international interests, are not as good guides in social or national relationships as those who are hold to more old-fashioned standards.

But Elihu Root is not one of those who would submerge nationalism in sentimental internationalism. He is an American who has served his country well and who, in making the recommendation that Americans study foreign affairs, makes it because he sees a menace to America's future in the ignorance of foreign affairs that is altogether too prevalent. He has expressed his disapproval of those who seek to win political advantage by stirring up racial animosities and hatreds, and of those others who, without any real knowledge of international affairs, are ever ready to offer a cure-all for the ills that afflict the nations in their relationships one with another.

Intelligence is always better than ignorance, and in a democracy is always desirable. Public opinion directs the course of the government, and because it has this power to determine which way the government will move in a given set of circumstances, it should be qualified to give an expression that is not based on quick and spontaneous reactions but on a knowledge of the facts.

THE TWENTIETH AMENDMENT

GOVERNOR J. A. O. PREUS has asked the citizens of this state to study the problems that have arisen through the employment of children in gainful occupations. A study of the child labor problem is necessary because within a short time the states may be asked to ratify an amendment to the constitution. Already Senator McCormick, of Illinois, has introduced a joint resolution which is awaiting action by congress.

While it seems certain that the states will speak in favor of the twentieth amendment to the constitution, it is well that the public should be asked to give the question serious thought because there will be opposition to the amendment from those who will be deprived of the cheap labor which they have used without thought of the detriment to the children employed.

More than once legislation has been enacted by congress which would have eliminated this evil had it not been for decisions of the supreme court which saw in such legislation an interference with state rights. Not all legal opinion is with the decision of the court, which in upholding state rights, sacrificed children to greed. But there is reason to conclude that in the end the decision of the supreme court will result in a larger good through the more stringent legislation that will follow the ratification of the twentieth amendment.

Legislation that has for its purpose the safeguarding of the children of the nation must be carefully and intelligently written, for while it is true that children are worked because they constitute a cheap commodity it must not be forgotten that of over 1,000,000 children employed at gainful labor a majority of the children are exploited by their parents. In 76 per cent of the cases studied the parents of the children were foreign born.

These foreign born parents must be prevented from exploiting even their own children when such exploitation injures the health, blights the happiness and dwarfs the minds of children who are to be the citizens of tomorrow.

REPORTS have it that if one is dissatisfied with his lot in Minnesota, because of high taxes and other misfortunes that people are heirs to, such an one will return to this commonwealth with rejoicing after a visit over the Canadian border.

THE fashion-makers are not taking any liberties with the men, whose clothes are to be roomy and comfortable, according to the decree of those who design the garments that men wear.

The first picture to present Gloria Swanson as a star in her own right is "The Great Moment," by Mme. Elinor Glyn, a Paramount special, which comes to the Lyceum theatre tonight and Tuesday.

Miss Swanson has the role of a half gypsy girl who tries vainly to still the tumult in her heart engendered by her partially nomadic ancestry, and the role is said to fit her wonderfully.

From all accounts it is one of the most satisfactory films ever produced. Milton Sills is leading man and other notables in the cast include Alec B. Francis, F. R. Butler, Arthur Hull, Raymond Brathwayt, Helen Dunbar, Clarence Geldart and Julia Faye.

For The Busy Man

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 27.—An ingenious plan for the absent-minded business man has been conceived by a French inventor. It consists of a wrist watch with the day-time hours divided into fifteen minute divisions. Into each of the divisions a tiny card could be inserted with a word or two written upon it to remind the wearer of his appointment or task for that moment. When the minute-hand reached the card a small alarm bell rings until the memorandum card is withdrawn.

MILE CONCRETE
PAVING ITEMS

What Goes Into A Mile of It Set Forth in Government Bulletin

TAKES 3913 BARRELS CEMENT

42 Cars of Fine Sand, 65 Cars of Crushed Rock, 20 Cars to Haul
the Cement

What goes into a mile of concrete paving? The answer makes a most interesting story and the data is available from Bulletin 1077, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Because this bulletin is not available for everyone's use, and because there is so much interest in the paving of our highways just at this time, a synopsis of the story as told by the Department of Agriculture follows. It is available through the courtesy of County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy.

A mile of concrete pavement 7 inches thick at the edges and 8 inches thick at the center, will require 3,913 barrels of portland cement for 2,249 cubic yards of concrete, including 1,102 cubic yards of sand and 1,664 cubic yards crushed rock.

In the making of these 3,913 barrels of portland cement that are required for a mile of pavement, over 390 tons of coal are burned at the cement mill. Approximately 19 tons of gypsum are required to regulate the setting time of the material. To get the cement shipped to the scene of the paving over 15,600 cloth cement sacks are needed and about 15 bales of cotton must be woven into cloth to supply this item.

Incidentally, over 30 million sacks are lost or destroyed each year, and the textile mills are called on to furnish material for these replacements.

Back in the cement quarries, 450 pounds of dynamite were shot off in blasting loose the raw materials required for the cement used in the mile of concrete highway.

The government bulletin estimates that 30 gallons of water are needed to mix and cure a square yard of concrete pavement. Over 300,000 gallons of water must be furnished for the mile of road, and approximately 4,500 tons of concrete go into the construction.

A good idea of what the highway construction business means to the railroads can be obtained from the requirements of the mile of concrete road. About 42 cars of fine sand are needed on this job. 65 cars of crushed rock are required, and it takes twenty cars to haul the cement, a total of 127 cars for the basic materials.

Where reinforcing is specified, further transportation is called for, while the water supply is governed by local conditions. In addition to these requirements, the drainage, grading, bridge and culvert construction must all be provided for.

When it is considered that the equivalent of over seven thousand miles of 18 foot concrete paving were placed under contract during the past year, the enormity of the transportation end of the work is easily seen. More than 880,000 freight cars are needed to transport the cement, sand and gravel for this operation.

As the peak of the demand comes during the late summer and autumn, there is added difficulty in getting materials on the job at exactly the time desired. Early shipments of construction materials, and loading of all cars to capacity limit would go a long way toward alleviating the congested conditions.

The first picture to present Gloria Swanson as a star in her own right is "The Great Moment," by Mme. Elinor Glyn, a Paramount special, which comes to the Lyceum theatre tonight and Tuesday.

Miss Swanson has the role of a half gypsy girl who tries vainly to still the tumult in her heart engendered by her partially nomadic ancestry, and the role is said to fit her wonderfully.

From all accounts it is one of the most satisfactory films ever produced. Milton Sills is leading man and other notables in the cast include Alec B. Francis, F. R. Butler, Arthur Hull, Raymond Brathwayt, Helen Dunbar, Clarence Geldart and Julia Faye.

For The Busy Man

(By United Press)

Paris, Jan. 27.—An ingenious plan for the absent-minded business man has been conceived by a French inventor. It consists of a wrist watch with the day-time hours divided into fifteen minute divisions. Into each of the divisions a tiny card could be inserted with a word or two, written upon it to remind the wearer of his appointment or task for that moment. When the minute-hand reached the card a small alarm bell rings until the memorandum card is withdrawn.

MILE CONCRETE
PAVING ITEMS

What Goes Into A Mile of It Set Forth in Government Bulletin

TAKES 3913 BARRELS CEMENT

42 Cars of Fine Sand, 65 Cars of Crushed Rock, 20 Cars to Haul the Cement

What goes into a mile of concrete paving? The answer makes a most interesting story and the data is available from Bulletin 1077, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Because this bulletin is not available for everyone's use, and because there is so much interest in the paving of our highways just at this time, a synopsis of the story as told by the Department of Agriculture follows. It is available through the courtesy of County Highway Engineer Walter M. Murphy.

A mile of concrete pavement 7 inches thick at the edges and 8 inches thick at the center, will require 3,913 barrels of portland cement for 2,249 cubic yards of concrete, including 1,102 cubic yards of sand and 1,664 cubic yards crushed rock.

In the making of these 3,913 barrels of portland cement that are required for a mile of pavement, over 390 tons of coal are burned at the cement mill. Approximately 19 tons of gypsum are required to regulate the setting time of the material. To get the cement shipped to the scene of the paving over 15,600 cloth cement sacks are needed and about 15 bales of cotton must be woven into cloth to supply this item.

Incidentally, over 30 million sacks are lost or destroyed each year, and the textile mills are called on to furnish material for these replacements.

Back in the cement quarries, 450 pounds of dynamite were shot off in blasting loose the raw materials required for the cement used in the mile of concrete highway.

The government bulletin estimates that 30 gallons of water are needed to mix and cure a square yard of concrete pavement. Over 300,000 gallons of water must be furnished for the mile of road, and approximately 4,500 tons of concrete go into the construction.

A good idea of what the highway construction business means to the railroads can be obtained from the requirements of the mile of concrete road. About 42 cars of fine sand are needed on this job. 65 cars of crushed rock are required, and it takes twenty cars to haul the cement, a total of 127 cars for the basic materials.

Where reinforcing is specified, further transportation is called for, while the water supply is governed by local conditions. In addition to these requirements, the drainage, grading, bridge and culvert construction must all be provided for.

When it is considered that the equivalent of over seven thousand miles of 18 foot concrete paving were placed under contract during the past year, the enormity of the transportation end of the work is easily seen. More than 880,000 freight cars are needed to transport the cement, sand and gravel for this operation.

As the peak of the demand comes during the late summer and autumn, there is added difficulty in getting materials on the job at exactly the time desired. Early shipments of construction materials, and loading of all cars to capacity limit would go a long way toward alleviating the congested conditions.

The GOLDEN RULE

AT LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton and Supt. of Schools W. C. Cobb at Sessions

10 MEASURES ARE APPROVED

Mr. Fullerton a Committee Member on Gross Earnings Tax Bill

City Attorney D. H. Fullerton and Superintendent of schools, W. C. Cobb have returned from St. Paul where they were in attendance at meetings of the legislative and tax committees of the Minnesota League of Municipalities, in session at the St. Paul Hotel Friday and Saturday.

Some two hundred delegates from 177 cities in the state took up the matters of improved schools, dry law enforcement and tax legislation and approved ten measures for the proposed betterment of the state. These ten measures are as follows:

- (1) Methods of reducing publication requirements on home rule charter amendments.
- (2) Co-ordinating administrative activities of state departments and establishment of a state budget system.
- (3) Permanent registration of electors in cities of the first class.
- (4) Adoption of an enabling act permitting zoning.
- (5) A one mill tax for musical entertainment.
- (6) Giving county auditors authority to sell property for taxes.
- (7) Providing that fines for liquor law violation go to cities instead of the county when arrests are made by police.
- (8) Providing for extra counting boards in elections.
- (9) Providing reimbursement to cities which have laid pavements to connect state highways.
- (10) Allowing councils to fill vacancies caused by the death of an alderman.

The tax committee of the League appointed a special committee to work on the Gross Earnings Tax bill composed of Campton of Two Harbors, Fullerton of Brainerd and Chase of Minneapolis.

The original Gross Earnings Tax bill which was to have been submitted to the legislature, benefited only two or three cities in the state and was therefore not received with a great deal of enthusiasm.

In a bill which will probably be submitted in place of the one mentioned above, all cities in the state will benefit according to the amount of Railway property within their limits.

It is understood that in this bill will be incorporated matter of returning to these towns and cities a proportion of the gross earnings tax represented by the amount of Railway property in that town or city aside from the rolling stock, mainline, trestles and bridges.

Such proportion of the tax would be refunded to the counties affected, and in turn would be subdivided to the cities and schools in the proper ratio. Thus the cities, schools and the counties would benefit.

If a bill of this kind is introduced, it will have the earnest support of a greater proportion of the legislature and stand a much better chance of passage than the one originally drafted which helped only two or three communities.

In regard to the tax problems in different cities the size of Brainerd or smaller, a comparison with Two Harbors will be interesting. In the latter city the taxes are so high that no business buildings have been built there, and none burned have been replaced in the past 15 years.

In Two Harbors a levy of 59.50 mills for city purpose raises only $10.83 per capita. A levy of 46.38 mills for school purposes raises only $9.92 per capita. The amount of delinquent tax for a five-year period in Two Harbors is 68 per cent of the 1921 tax levy.

In Brainerd the valuation of railway property is approximately five million dollars, the city valuation is $3,006,000. Minneapolis claims $228,000,000 worth of railway property.

Five points were stressed at the legislative committee's meetings. They are: 1st proper enforcement of the prohibition law, 2nd, further provision for improvement of the state school system, 3rd new legislation for the extension of the rights of women, 4th zoning laws for small cities, and 5th, child welfare legislation.

A central legislative reference bureau, with ample appropriation, under strict control of the legislature itself, which could impartially gather the facts upon at least the most important questions to come before each session, has been advocated by the League of Municipalities, and would tend to do away with the handicap under which the legislature is now working. It is stated.

On Friday the two hundred delegates were entertained by the St. Paul city officials at an elaborate banquet in the St. Paul hotel.

LAST MEETING OF THE CHAMBER COMMERCE

Also First Meeting of New "Brainerd Civic Association" to be Held January 31

ELECTION OF OFFICERS ALSO

President, Three Vice Presidents, Treasurer and Seven Directors To Be Selected (Continued)

The election of officers under the new plan provided for in the amended articles of incorporation and by-laws will be the principal business of the meeting of the Brainerd Civic Association next Wednesday night. The nominations will be by direct primary, the two men receiving the highest number of votes in the primary, will be voted for at the election. The officers to be elected are: president, three vice presidents, treasurer and seven directors.

Next Wednesday night, Jan. 31st, the Chamber of Commerce of Brainerd will cease to exist. After several years of useful work under this name, and after several unsuccessful attempts to change the name, it has been finally decided that "Brainerd Civic Association" more completely expresses the purpose of the organization, the aim of which is and ought to continue to be, the development of progressive citizenship. As the progress of the community is the sum of progress in its individuals, it is obvious that the great work of the organization must be to inspire its members with a desire for real civic progress.

PRES. ADAIR IN ANNUAL REPORT

Head of Brainerd Building and Loan Association Gives Record of Work Done in 1922

5 LOANS HAVE BEEN PLACED

Seven Per Cent of Earnings Have Been Set Aside as a Contingent Fund of Association

At the annual meeting of the Brainerd Building and Loan Association, this report was made to the stockholders by President S. R. Adair:

At this your first annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Brainerd Building and Loan Association it may be well to briefly outline the origin and development of the Association.

The idea of forming a Building & Loan Association was first brought before the people by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce. The matter was discussed at one of the Chamber meetings in the early part of the year and was referred to the Home Building & Improvement Committee. This Committee, together with a Committee from the Trades and Labor Assembly, met on April 10th, 1922, and formed a temporary organization.

A Charter was issued on April 11th, 1922, to run for thirty (30) years on a capital stock basis of $1,000,000.00. On May 3rd, 1922, the By-Laws were adopted and the organization made permanent. The Directors fixed the following amounts as surety bonds for the officers:

President, $2,000.00; Treasurer, $10,000.00; Secretary, $5,000.00.

Subscriptions for paid up stock were started on May 3rd, 1922 and $3,500.00 was subscribed and paid for before the first authorized loan was made on July 17th, 1922.

During the period just terminated, the directors have authorized and placed five (5) loans to the aggregate amount of $9900.00 on a property valuation of $21,500.00, which is only 46 pct of the average property valuation as placed by the appraisal committee.

On December 31st, 1922, we had issued and in force 52 shares of paid up stock and had collected $677.40 on the installment stock. At the last meeting of the board of directors, five additional shares of paid up stock were subscribed for by the board members.

On Aug. 24th the officers were authorized to cause evidence of indebtedness to be issued to procure a temporary loan for the Ass'n of $6,500.00. Only $4,500.00 of this amount was found necessary to borrow and on Dec. 22nd we repaid $400.00 of the loan, leaving a balance due the bank of $4,100.00 on Dec. 31st.

As a proof that our organization is considered safe I may state that recently we have had offers from individuals to extend to us any short term loans at reasonable interests. I look forward with great hopes that the Brainerd Building & Loan Ass'n has a bright and useful future—that it will always furnish a safe investment for our citizens and to be the means through which Brainerd will become a city of home owners.

The schedule committee appointed Dec. 11th met and checked over the accounts of the Association and their report is here for your own inspection.

Our by-laws provide that 5 pct. of the earnings shall be set aside as a contingent fund, but we set aside an amount in excess of 7 pct, besides declaring a dividend of 6 1-4 pct to the stockholders, which has been distributed as follows:

$170.41 was paid in cash to the paid up stockholders, and $14.64 credited to accounts of installment stock certificates.

The directors have held regular monthly meetings during the term just closed and I wish to commend the present board of directors for their cooperation in the management of this organization during the trying period of our first eight months' business. Its membership is from all walks of life and the association is a community organization in the purest sense of the word.

I have no recommendations to make as to the future. The new board of directors, to be chosen tonight, will be free to carry on the work in their own way.

In conclusion I want to express my sincere and great appreciation of the work of the present secretary, William Nelson. He has opened up a very complete set of books of the association, which require a great deal of his personal time and energy. This has been without remuneration, excepting the personal satisfaction that comes to the citizen who gives freely, service to the community and the organizations to which he belongs. I know the directors do, and I feel sure the stockholders will join me in this expression of thanks.

Respectfully
S. R. ADAIR
President

BRAINERD WINS A DOUBLE VICTORY

High First Team Defeats Staples First Team at Basket Ball 19 to 14

THE 2ND TEAM WINS 19 TO 17

Scrappy Seconds Wound Up in 17 to 17 Tie, 5 Minutes More Needed To Win

The Brainerd high school basketball teams, both first and second quints, returned from Staples bringing all of the laurels home with them and continuing their record of winning every game so far this season.

The first team's score at the final whistle was 19 to 14, the second team's, 19 to 17. In the latter game the score at the end of the second half was a tie, 17 to 17, and the time was extended five minutes. In that extra period Day got two free throws bringing in the two additional points which won the game.

Exceptionally good team work was shown by Coach Rosell's boys, which accounts for the scores brought home. Engbretson of the first team was easily the star, making ten of the points himself.

Quite a number of fans from Brainerd accompanied the players to Staples and their boosting did much to encourage the teams and bring them out of the battle victorious.

President, $2,000.00; Treasurer, $10,000.00; Secretary, $5,000.00.

Subscriptions for paid up stock were started on May 3rd, 1922 and $3,500.00 was subscribed and paid for before the first authorized loan was made on July 17th, 1922.

During the period just terminated, the directors have authorized and placed five (5) loans to the aggregate amount of $9900.00 on a property valuation of $21,500.00, which is only 46 pct of the average property valuation as placed by the appraisal committee.

On December 31st, 1922, we had issued and in force 52 shares of paid up stock and had collected $677.40 on the installment stock. At the last meeting of the board of directors, five additional shares of paid up stock were subscribed for by the board members.

On Aug. 24th the officers were authorized to cause evidence of indebtedness to be issued to procure a temporary loan for the Ass'n of $6,500.00. Only $4,500.00 of this amount was found necessary to borrow and on Dec. 22nd we repaid $400.00 of the loan, leaving a balance due the bank of $4,100.00 on Dec. 31st.

As a proof that our organization is considered safe I may state that recently we have had offers from individuals to extend to us any short term loans at reasonable interests. I look forward with great hopes that the Brainerd Building & Loan Ass'n has a bright and useful future—that it will always furnish a safe investment for our citizens and to be the means through which Brainerd will become a city of home owners.

The schedule committee appointed Dec. 11th met and checked over the accounts of the Association and their report is here for your own inspection.

Our by-laws provide that 5 pct. of the earnings shall be set aside as a contingent fund, but we set aside an amount in excess of 7 pct. besides declaring a dividend of 6 1-4 pct to the stockholders, which has been distributed as follows:

$170.41 was paid in cash to the paid up stockholders, and $14.64 credited to accounts of installment stock certificates.

The directors have held regular monthly meetings during the term just closed and I wish to commend the present board of directors for their cooperation in the management of this organization during the trying period of our first eight months' business. Its membership is from all walks of life and the association is a community organization in the purest sense of the word.

I have no recommendations to make as to the future. The new board of directors, to be chosen tonight, will be free to carry on the work in their own way.

In conclusion I want to express my sincere and great appreciation of the work of the present secretary, William Nelson. He has opened up a very complete set of books of the association, which required a great deal of his personal time and energy. This has been without remuneration, excepting the personal satisfaction that comes to the citizen who gives freely, service to the community and the organizations to which he belongs. I know the directors do, and I feel sure the stockholders will join me in this expression of thanks.

BRAINERD WINS A DOUBLE VICTORY

High First Team Defeats Staples First Team at Basket Ball 19 to 14

THE 2ND TEAM WINS 19 TO 17

Scrappy Seconds Wound Up in 17 to 17 Tie, 5 Minutes More Needed To Win

The Brainerd high school basketball teams, both first and second quints, returned from Staples bringing all of the laurels home with them and continuing their record of winning every game so far this season.

The first team's score at the final whistle was 19 to 14, the second team's, 19 to 17. In the latter game the score at the end of the second half was a tie, 17 to 17, and the time was extended five minutes. In that extra period Day got two free throws bringing in the two additional points which won the game.

Exceptionally good team work was shown by Coach Rosell's boys, which accounts for the scores brought home. Engbretson of the first team was easily the star, making ten of the points himself.

Quite a number of fans from Brainerd accompanied the players to Staples and their boosting did much to encourage the teams and bring them out of the battle victorious.

RINGSIDE VIEW OF THE HEAVYWEIGHTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Jan. 29.—Three former world's heavyweight champions and one who wants to be the next one were clustered in the glare of the ringside light in Madison Square Garden the night Floyd Johnson fought Bill Brennan.

It was a fight advertised as one to give a line on how near the youthful Johnson was to a chance for the title and all the experts and celebrities were there.

With Tex Rickard in the front row were James J. Corbett, the first champion of the Queensbury rules; Jess Willard, the biggest of all title holders, and Tommy Gibbons, in line for the title.

In a manner befitting a blaze champion, Jack Dempsey was absent. Back several rows where the glare of the arc lights over the ring began to melt into a black curtain sat Jack Johnson, the "Lil Arthur" of days gone by, gold teeth and the whites of his eye balls sticking through the darkness.

Across the ring on the other side, visible only because he was taller than the rest, sat Harry Wills, the brown Panther of New Orleans, who will never be a world's champion, because he will never get the chance.

In that scattered group was represented all the stages of pugilism; in them were exhibited all the degrees of enthusiasm, ambition, hope and realization.

Corbett, suave and dignified like the "Gentleman Jim" that he was always called, sat there unemotional watching a young hopeful and an old veteran battle for the chance to get a title and the million that goes with it.

Corbett is gray at the temples and sparse locked on top. His forehead is deeply wrinkled and the telltale crow's feet crop out around his eyes when he laughs. His eyes are behind big horn-rimmed glasses. He looks like a bank president about to retire.

Corbett sat there with his arms crossed over his breast and the expressionless mask of a poker face on his countenance. Corbett's enthusiasm had dimmed. He had been through it all and the thrill was not there.

Next to him sat Jess Willard, the huge Kansas cowboy, rancher, oil man, sheep herder and speculator—also the man who took the worst beating that a champion ever got in a ring.

Willard looked good. His face tanned by wind and sun made his eyes look white and clear. His massive chest heaved under a blue silk shirt with collar to match and a neat gray suit. He twirled a big sombrero in his hands and squirmed trying to get comfortable on a chair many sizes too small for him.

When the fight started, Big Jess moved his three hundred pounds to the edge of the seat and the muscles in his face started. With every blow struck in the ring, his eyes squinted, his jaw muscles throbbed, his mouth opened and his tongue would moisten his lips. He was not out of the game long enough to keep from having a little sub-conscious part in it himself.

Next to him sat Tommy Gibbons, the St. Paul boy, the classiest boxer among all the heavyweights. Gibbons was on the edge of his chair. When the gong sounded for a round, all his muscles tightened and his fists clenched. He blocked with his elbows, his shoulders moved like one with a serious nervous trouble. He ducked his head and swayed it around on his shoulders and his feet were constantly shifting. He almost breathed laboriously with the men in the ring when they began to tire.

His demeanor represented ambition, hope, enthusiasm and all their relatives.

Back of them, through the haze of darkness and smoke beamed the golden smile of Jack Johnson. He was perfectly at ease. His bulk was so squeezed in between customers that he couldn't move if he wanted to and he only smiled, as he always did.

Over on the other side, his head on a stretched high neck to see it all, was the face of Harry Wills. He was putting a hunk of chewing gum to the greatest of torture. Otherwise he was just watching.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Keep Her Locks Dark, Glossy, Beautiful

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it quite sensibly, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Adv.

"Y" COLTS WIN

Defeat Pillager High School Team
22 to 3 at Brainerd High
Gymnasium

The Y. M. C. A. Colts, in their clash Saturday night with the Pillager high school basketball team, came off the floor victorious by the overwhelming score of 22 to 3.

The game was played in the gymnasium of the Brainerd high school, and was a larger floor than the visitors were used to. The Pillager quint, although strongly outclassed, put up a scrappy fight and played a clean snappy game to the last whistle, taking their defeat like true sportsmen.

The Colts went into the game with high confidence and a determination to win, which showed in the way they dropped the sphere through the basket, every few minutes.

Weish was able to be back in the game again, and starred for the Brainerd team. Rosenberg and Erickson assisted greatly with their teamwork, and carried the ball down the floor repeatedly for points.

The Pillager boys succeeded in getting the ball near their goal on several occasions, but were stopped by the Colts snappy guards.

The following is the line-up of both teams:

Weish.....R. F.....Hull
L. Erickson.....L. F.....Horn
Fitzsimmons.....C. C. Anderson
Molstad.....R. G.....Lof
Thon.....L. G. L. Anderson
Substitutes, Braithard, Putz for Thon, E. Erickson for Fitzsimmons, Rosenberg for L. Erickson. Referee, Hess.

The Colts go to Royalton on Wednesday, where they meet the American Legion at the Palace Theatre.

REMARKABLE RESULTS REPORTED; COLDS DISAPPEAR OVER NIGHT

Simply Rub Muco-Solvent Salve On Chest and Throat to Relieve Congestion

PLEASANT—SAFE—EFFECTIVE

Everybody's doing it. From all sides are heard the praises of those who have tried the new treatment for colds. One and all delighted with its simplicity and effectiveness. Just a pleasant ointment, smells good, feels good, isn't greasy, doesn't stain the clothing, but it sure does the work. Colds of babies, children and adults give up and fade away.

To Check a Cold at Its Beginning

Here's how it works: If your cold is only in the sniffing stage you can probably chase it away in an hour or so. Melt some Muco Salve in a spoon, inhale the vapors—taking long deep breaths. Then, with finger, insert a very little bit in each nostril and breathe again. Repeat the operation fifteen minutes later. Simple, isn't it?

Powerful, Yet Absolutely Safe

Muco Salve's efficacy is due to its strength, which gives it an unusual vaporizing quality and wonderful penetrating power, although when using it the patient is not inconvenienced. In fact, its action seems very mild. This feature constitutes the difference between the formula discovered by the Muco-Solvent laboratory and the formulas or guesses of those who would imitate Muco-Solvent. Therefore, the real test is in results obtained, by which comparison Muco Salve most surely leads.

Ingredients From Nature's Workshop

Nature has always provided the curatives for human ills. Man has had to discover their uses. The Muco-Solvent laboratory, after patient experimentation, has produced this wonderful preparation. Among other ingredients is oil of turpentine, used for generations by family doctors in the treatment of colds. Menthol crystals from Japan have an antiseptic action upon the nasal membranes. The carrying agent of Muco Salve is highly refined petroleum, the value of which is well known.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS

Jar of Muco-Solvent Salve Only Costs 25 Cents—Contains Enough to Treat a Dozen Colds

The use of Muco-Solvent Salve for colds is only one of a dozen things it is good for, therefore it is advised that a family size jar be kept in the house at all times. For scalds, burns and bruises it helps alleviate pain and to accelerate the healing process of nature. It softens chapped hands; heals cracked lips and fever blisters. After shaving it gives the skin velvety smoothness. Get a jar of Muco-Solvent today. At all druggists, including H. P. Dunn Drug Store, Lammon's Drug Store, Skauge Drug Co., Johnson's Pharmacy. And by Fells Drug Co. and Lovdahl Drug Co. at Crosby.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it quite sensibly, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular, because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—Advt.

"Y" COLTS WIN

Defeat Pillager High School Team 22 to 3 at Brainerd High Gymnasium

The Y. M. C. A. Colts, in their clash Saturday night with the Pillager high school basketball team, came off the floor victorious by the overwhelming score of 22 to 3.

The game was played in the gymnasium of the Brainerd high school, and was a larger floor than the visitors were used to. The Pillager quint, although strongly outclassed, put up a scrappy fight and played a clean snappy game to the last whistle, taking their defeat like true sportsmen.

The Colts went into the game with high confidence and a determination to win, which showed in the way they dropped the sphere through the basket, every few minutes.

Welsh was able to be back in the game again, and starred for the Brainerd team. Rosenberg and Erickson assisted greatly with their teamwork, and carried the ball down the floor repeatedly for points.

The Pillager boys succeeded in getting the ball near their goal on several occasions, but were stopped by the Colts snappy guards.

The following is the line-up of both teams:

Welsh.....R. F.....Hull
L. Erickson.....L. F.....Horn
Fitzsimmons.....C. C. Anderson
Molstad.....R. G.....Light
Thon.....L. G.....L. Anderson
Substitutes, Braithwaite, Putz for Thon, E. Erickson for Fitzsimmons, Rosenberg for L. Erickson. Referee, Hess.

The Colts go to Royalton on Wednesday, where they meet the American Legion at the Palace Theatre.

REMARKABLE RESULTS REPORTED; COLDS DISAPPEAR OVER NIGHT

Simply Rub Muco-Solvent Salve On Chest and Throat to Relieve Congestion

PLEASANT—SAFE—EFFECTIVE

Everybody's doing it. From all sides are heard the praises of those who have tried the new treatment for colds. One and all delighted with its simplicity and effectiveness. Just a pleasant ointment, smells good, feels good, isn't greasy, doesn't stain the clothing, but it sure does the work. Colds of babies, children and adults give up and fade away.

To Check a Cold at Its Beginning

Here's how it works: If your cold is only in the sniffing stage you can probably chase it away in an hour or so. Melt some Muco Salve in a spoon, inhale the vapors—taking long deep breaths. Then, with finger, insert a very little bit in each nostril and breathe again. Repeat the operation fifteen minutes later. Simple, isn't it?

Powerful, Yet Absolutely Safe

Muco Salve's efficacy is due to its strength, which gives it an unusual vaporizing quality and wonderful penetrating power, although when using it the patient is not inconvenienced. In fact, its action seems very mild. This feature constitutes the difference between the formula discovered by the Muco-Solvent laboratory and the formulas or guesses of those who would imitate Muco-Solvent. Therefore, the real test is in results obtained, by which comparison Muco Salve most surely leads.

Ingredients From Nature's Workshop

Nature has always provided the curatives used for human ills. Man has had to discover their uses. The Muco-Solvent laboratory, after patient experimentation, has produced this wonderful preparation. Among other ingredients is oil of turpentine, used for generations by family doctors in the treatment of colds. Menthol crystals from Japan have an antiseptic action upon the nasal membranes. The carrying agent of Muco Salve is highly refined petroleum, the value of which is well known.

Children's Colds

Muco-Solvent Salve is particularly adapted to the treatment of children's colds because of the fact that it is applied externally. Nor do children have to be coaxed to use it; they actually like it and soon learn to use it themselves. Which makes it a boon for the mother who realizes the necessity of keeping all members of the family well.

For children's colds insert in each nostril; rub freely on chest and cover with warm flannels. Be sure to keep the child's bowels open.

Don't Neglect a Bad Cold

The proper treatment of such a cold begins with a purgative, a good dose of oil, epsom salts, etc. Inhale the vapors of Muco Salve melted in a spoon. This opens the head so that when a little of the salve is applied in each nostril it vaporizes and thus soothes the inflamed membranes of the respiratory tract. At bedtime repeat this process; then open the pores of the chest by the application of hot towels, followed by a thick rubbing on of Muco Salve, covered with warm flannel.

Keep a window open all night. Great relief will be experienced by morning.

Beware Pneumonia

If a bad cold does not respond to the above program, it is time to call the doctor sure enough unless you wish first to use the Muco-Solvent Liquid. This is an old, old medicine, used for many years by Dr. L. W. Gilfill of Neenah, Wisconsin. It is a solution of antiseptics, a germicide in the use of which the bacilli are killed and the accumulated mass of phlegm or mucus dissolved and expelled—hence the name, Muco-Solvent.

Being purely a vegetable compound this medicine has long been in family use and is of course, obtainable at nearly all drug stores. The price we believe, 75¢ and $1.00.
